How to use this planner

Ninety days, one page at a time. Do the pages in order the first time through.

1 Set your number

Page 3. Write down the monthly income you want 90 days from now and why it matters. Everything else serves that number.

2 Map your streams

Page 4. List every way money could come in — clients, products, gigs — and the first action for each.

3 Work the months

Pages 5–7. Each month gets a goal, three priorities, and a money snapshot. Review on the 1st.

4 Work the weeks

Pages 8–10 are undated. Print more any time. Three money tasks per week beats thirty busy tasks.

5 Track every dollar

Pages 11–13. Log clients, income, and expenses. What gets tracked gets grown.

6 Review and repeat

Pages 16–17. Weekly and 90-day reviews turn effort into a system. Then start a fresh 90 days.

DAY 1

My 90-day income vision

Be specific. A vague goal produces vague effort.

In 90 days, I want to be earning $ _____ per month.

Why does this number matter? What changes when I hit it?

What will I have to do differently from what I'm doing now?

My non-negotiables (things I won't sacrifice for money):

Undated — print extra copies of any page you use often.

Income stream map

List every way money could come in. Small streams count.

Stream	Expected $/mo	First action

Tip: circle the two streams with the fastest path to cash. Start there.

BUILD

30-day launch checklist

One checked box a day beats a perfect plan.

- [ ] Pick ONE offer from page 14 to launch first
- [ ] Write a one-paragraph description of who it's for
- [ ] Set the price (start simple: $9, $29, or $99)
- [ ] Create the product file or outline
- [ ] Make a simple cover image
- [ ] Write the sales blurb (problem → promise → proof)
- [ ] Choose where to sell it (Etsy, Gumroad, or your own site)
- [ ] Publish the listing
- [ ] Tell 10 specific people it exists
- [ ] Post about it 3 times this week
- [ ] Ask every buyer for a testimonial
- [ ] Review the numbers and plan month two
